OVERVIEW

Bill Billings has been a professional in the Construction Industry since 1971. Twelve years ago, Bill obtained his General Contracting license and became the Owner of a local construction company in South Florida. In that same time span, Bill has also managed and operated a Home Inspection/Consulting business obtaining his Licensed HUD Consultant status in 2009.

In addition to Bill's experience in the construction/inspection industry, he has also mentored other industry professionals over the course of the past 12 years and is an active member of the Association of Renovation Consultants (ARC).

Before using Renovation Lending Software, Bill used Corporate Niche for the consulting side of his business. Bill and his team looking for a more progressive and robust software, started using Renovation Lending Software (RLS) in 2019. RLS offers an easy to use software system, yielding professional reports for the customer and lenders.

PARTNERING WITH RENOVATION LENDING SOFTWARE

Ability to create templates when building estimates for Specification of Repairs.

System refresh is quick and page navigation is visibly accessible on one screen.

Reports can be grouped to create a single document or easily separated to satisfy each user's preference.

DocuSign integration offers quick turnaround time on signed docs and can be stored into the RLS account platform for easy reference.

Invoicing and accounting are automated for draw requests which reduce errors and provides accurate statements of accounts.

Loan officers get to enjoy organized paperwork and industry standard verbiage which builds credibility.

I feel the user friendly platform from Renovation Lending Software is what has influenced me to use RLS over other softwares on the market.
